January 27, 2019
9:00 AM PST

Day 1: No significant weather is expected.

National Weather Service
*Western Region Headquarters
Regional Operations Center
Salt Lake City, UT*

Key Points

01/27/19 - 02/02/19

Sunday-Monday

- No significant weather is expected across California.

Tuesday-Wednesday

- Santa Ana/offshore winds again will return across southern CA. Winds are currently expected to be weak to moderate in strength.

Thursday-Saturday

- The chance of precipitation increases at the end of the week, especially for the northern half of California. This change to a wetter pattern is highly likely, but confidence is currently low in timing and amounts.
